Vandals set fire to a vacant house in Trumansburg Township Tuesday. A teenager, who was arrested on Tuesday, admitted to the crime. Residents in Trumansburg Township awoke to a neighbor's alarm system going off around 11:30 a.m. when they saw smoke coming from the vacant house in the 100 block of Michigan Avenue. The smoke prompted first responders from Trumansburg Township Fire Department and the Trumansburg Police Department to respond. "I saw the fire truck pulling up and the police were here and they had a ladder up against the house and I heard sirens," said neighbor Jenny Magruder. Neighbors were told the house had been on fire for an extended amount of time and that it had to be the house of origin. "I never had any issues with the house so it's pretty upsetting and the firefighters told us it was vacant but they could smell smoke, so it didn't smell normal," said Magruder. The house was owned by David and Virginia Haywood, but their family members told our news partners that they hadn't been inside the house since July. "I've lived in the neighborhood for over 40 years and I've never seen anything like this, we were told the house was on fire for days and when we came home it was destroyed," said Trumansburg Township Police Chief Tom Trapp. David Haywood told WSYR his family had not been home for several weeks. "The girl was arrested at school and she told me that she did it," said Haywood. The girl was arrested at school and taken to a juvenile detention center for arraignment on arson charges. "I couldn't believe it, it was my house," said Haywood. "But the fire department told me that it would take a while and a lot of damage. They said that they wouldn't rebuild it, I guess." David Haywood said he isn't sure what the plan is for the house. He would like to rebuild 4bc0debe42
