In a surprise move, the 'My Everything' singer was announced as the first one eliminated from the seventh season of the NBC show on Sunday's season finale. The singer, who has been competing on the show since its eighth season, will be the first person from this season's season to be eliminated. She is the only person who was originally eliminated from this season's season to return to the ballroom. Earlier on Sunday, the eighth season of the show was announced, which will feature six celebrity dancers and one professional dancer. So far, only one celebrity has been announced, but it is expected that Chrisette will be the next celebrity to join the competition. The Season 9 dancers will perform on stage on Monday, January 13. More details about the show will be announced as the weeks go on. The show will be aired on the ABC Network. The present invention relates to a new and distinct cultivar of apple tree, botanically known as Malus sarssestrata, and hereinafter referred to by the cultivar name 'Sunpower'. The new apple tree is a product of a planned breeding program conducted by the Inventor in Lompoc, Calif. The objective of the breeding program is to create new vigorous apple tree cultivars with early ripening fruit. The new apple tree originated from a chance cross by the Inventor in May of 1997 of a proprietary apple seedling selection designated '9366' (not patented) as the female, or seed, parent with '9101' (not patented) as the male, or pollen, parent. The new apple tree 4bc0debe42
